Be a part of shaping workplace public policy that will impact employees and employers and impact the future of work.

SHRM’s Advocacy Team (A-Team) is also a professional development opportunity that provides the knowledge, training and network to invest in yourself and take the next step in your career.

Stand out among your colleagues as a forward-looking leader who understands the world of public policy and its impact on the workplace.

Advocacy taught me to tell the story of how policies impacted my workers and workplace and made me more aware of best practices versus mandates and laws. That’s how I became a strategic leader in my organization.¹

Pam Bratton
Vice President
Meador Staffing Services, Inc.

Your voice matters, your organizations and the people matter. That’s why it’s important that you take your voice and experiences to local, state and federal legislators. When you join SHRM’s A-Team, you become a workforce expert impacting the world of work for good.

Emily M. Dickens
Corporate Secretary, Chief of Staff & Head, Government Affairs
SHRM

¹ Advocacy taught me to tell the story of how policies impacted my workers and workplace and made me more aware of best practices versus mandates and laws. That’s how I became a strategic leader in my organization.
MAKE AN IMPACT
TELL YOUR STORY
PROVIDE YOUR EXPERTISE
BECOME A WORKPLACE EXPERT

As a member of the A-Team, you will gain access to SHRM's leading policy research, become a trusted workplace expert, and experience advocacy in action. This is your democracy, and this is your career.

Invest in yourself and the future of workplace policy by joining the A-Team.